COPE Founders
Lilly Julien, Judy & Richard Berg, Patti Greenberg

Founded in 1999, COPE is a grief and healing organization helping parents and families living with the loss of a child. Started by bereaved parents, COPE offers professionally-led support groups, a grief-support phoneline, and healing workshops, including yoga, meditation, art, movement, music, and journaling.

Since 2012, COPE supports grieving children and teens who have lost a loved one with its annual bereavement camp, a free summer weekend experience for kids and their families.

Traumatic loss and grief take a physical and emotional toll on survivors.

Our COPE families learn they are not alone and gain the essential healing tools that help them cope with their grief.
